

INTESTINAL SYSTEM:

KEY PRODUCT: Bowel Build The bowel functions are so important that they sometimes take precedence before treating anything else in the body. I read years ago that in all cases of bowel operations there was a massive buildup of blackened and hardened mucous lining the bowel and blocking the villi, where nutrients are absorbed. Also with sluggish bowel activity, toxins may be reabsorbed into the system, especially when bowel movements are days, and even weeks apart. Bowel Build covers many situations.

There are many photos on the net that show some of the horrifying hardened straps of mucous that are expelled after doing cleanses of the intestinal tract. The mucous becomes lodged because the diet and activity within the tract is not enough to clear the mucous through. It builds up and is not cleaned out in general simply by dietary means.
